Hi [REDACTED],
As requested we have set up the Pro-Forma for your order of the BP 2020. Please find the Pro-Forma attached, our payment terms are 28 days therefore you must make payment within this timeframe. I have attached the payment information page as well to help you make payment. If you pay by BACS can you send the bank remittance over to me? As this will then help us allocate your payment to your order without any delays.
In the meantime if you have any questions or queries please don't hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards

Subject: RE: BP - login

Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email.

I can confirm that we do sell Multi User Licences, you would get concurrent log in details and then all you staff would use the same log in up to your maximum concurrency.

- a multi-user subscription tailored to your organisation
- a cost-effective solution for 3 or more users
- access to the full text of the BP and European Pharmacopoeia including Ph. Eur in-year updates
- simultaneous access across workstations, laptops and other portable devices
- instant online access via IP recognition

Who are BP network licences relevant for?

Unlike the single-user licence which restricts access to one person from one workstation, these licences are suitable for any organisation wanting access to the British Pharmacopoeia online for two or more users. The BP online is also optimised for use on portable devices such as tablets and smartphones, so can be accessed away from the lab or office.

I will provide our two smallest licences below.

BP 2020

5 concurrent Users

£2,400

BP 2020

10 Concurrent Users

£4,250

If you would like to proceed or have any further question please let me know.

Kind Regards

Hi [REDACTED],

I would like to purchase an additional login for my colleagues, but not named users. Is it possible to purchase more accesses for anyone (not by name)?

For instance, is it possible for e.g. about 10 people to be log in at the same time with the same login for all of them (knihovna, pw: Cqu1?m9w)?

Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for your email.

I can see that you have a Single user Licence, which is meant for a single named user?

If you would like to purchase an additional log in for your colleague please let me know.
