PS: "We would like to let all customers and partners know that Norcada has enabled a modified product packaging protocol. We have always packaged our devices in our cleanrooms and have sealed the bags/boxes containing products in the cleanest way possible. Since 2002, all of our shipments have been boxed in a clean and dry controlled environment, and sealed clean in a shipping box (FedEx/UPS/DHL). While boxing, we have always maintained white-glove handling of the outer surfaces of the product containers. As of March 16, 2020, we have updated our protocol and our shipping staff have switched to sanitized nitrile gloves in all stages of packaging and shipping. When our customers receive the product shipment, they can be assured that all surfaces inside the courier box were only exposed to clean products, clean packaging materials and sanitized glove handling. Nitrile gloves are changed and sanitized on a regular basis."
