Summary

You are free to:

- Share — copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format
- Adapt — remix, transform, and build upon the material for any purpose, even commercially.

You must give appropriate credit (attribution) to ECMWF as outlined below, provide a link to the licence, and indicate if changes were made.

- No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the licence permits.

Terms of Use:

- ECMWF retains all Intellectual Property Rights and copyright over its data.
- ECMWF must be acknowledged (attributed) as the source.
- ECMWF does not accept any liability whatsoever for any error or omission in the data, their availability, or for any loss or damage arising from their use.
- ECMWF makes no warranty as to the accuracy or completeness of its data products or the uninterrupted provision of such data products. All data products are provided on an "as is" basis. Any warranty implied by statute or otherwise is hereby excluded to the fullest extent permissible by law.
- ECMWF shall not be liable should ECMWF discontinue the provision of its data products at any time.
- ECMWF shall have no liability in contract, tort or otherwise arising out of or in connection with these Terms of Use.
- Users must remove attribution if requested by ECMWF.
- These Terms of Use shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.
- The parties shall attempt to settle any dispute between them in relation these Terms of Use and any data licensed under these Terms of Use in an amicable manner. If the dispute cannot be so settled, it shall be finally settled under the Rules of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce by one or three arbitrators appointed in accordance with the said rules; sitting in London, England. The proceedings shall be in the English language. In accordance with Sections 45 and 69 of the Arbitration Act 1996, the right of appeal by either party to the English courts on a question of law arising in the course of any arbitral proceedings or out of an award made in any arbitral proceedings is hereby agreed to be excluded.
- Nothing in these Terms of Use shall be construed as a waiver of any of the privileges and immunities conferred upon ECMWF by its Member States through its Convention and Protocol on Privileges and Immunities.
- Access to the data products and services may be unavailable, delayed or interrupted. ECMWF will make reasonable efforts to restore the access following the report of a problem, but ECMWF will not be liable for, any unavailability, delay or interruption in access.

If the licensee is defined as Research User, the Licensee is subject to the ECMWF definition of Research and Results which are stated below:

Research Project: Any time bound project organised for non-commercial research purposes only, where an ongoing/continuous service based on ECMWF Products is not permitted without written consent from the Licensor. A necessary condition for the recognition of non-commercial purposes is that all the Results obtained are openly available at delivery costs only, without any delay linked to commercial objectives, and that the research itself is submitted for open publication.

 Research licences cannot be longer than the duration of the project itself and up to a maximum of 3 years, whichever is shorter. A research licence may be renewed for research projects lasting longer than 3 years.

Results: may include written reports, publications, presentations, and other forms of research output that do not involve the distribution or real-time Products or services based on real-time Products except where permission is granted.

If this agreement is attached to a Sales Order, the Licensee is subject to the following additional conditions:

1. The Licensee shall pay the Fees and handling charges set out in the Sales Order within 30 days from the date of the relevant invoice.
2. The Licensor shall invoice in the currency specified in the Sales Order. Unless otherwise agreed, the Licensee shall pay in the currency of the invoice. If the Licensee elects to pay in a different currency (which must be convertible) than EUR, The Licensor reserves the right to levy a surcharge of 5% to cover the risk of any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the dates of invoice and payment.

3. ECMWF is an international organisation established by Convention with a Protocol on Privileges and Immunities and as such is not required to be registered for VAT purposes. ECMWF does not have a VAT No. so VAT will not be applied to its invoices.
4. The Licensee is granted Direct Access to the Archive Products for the Direct Access period indicated in the Sales Order.
5. The Licensee undertakes to use identifiers, passwords and any other security information or device received from ECMWF for the sole purposes for which access to the ECMWF systems has been granted and not to make them available to third parties under any circumstances. The Licensee shall use them in accordance with Annex A.3 of ECMWF's Computer Security Policy, as laid down in ECMWF Computer Bulletin B0.2/3 or any updated or replacement document. A copy of the Centre's Computer Security Policy will be provided by the Licenser upon the Licensee's request.
